

Transition times.

Supporting the child and adolescent's transitions in Pediatric condition

2nd S.I.P.Ped. International Conference

November 7 – 9, 2019

Palermo, Sicily, Villa Magnisi, Ordine dei Medici Chirurghi e Odontoiatri

Palermo

Potential Conflict Between Developmental Needs and Expectations for Pediatric Conditions

Sharon Berry, PhD, ABPP
Children's Minnesota

Sharon.berry@childrensmn.org

Progress with survival trends

Improvement in management of chronic illness

Child/teen and parent involvement

Planned transitions to adult care providers

It is estimated that 31% of teenagers experience at least one moderate to severe chronic medical condition requiring ongoing management

Developmental Issues

- Autonomy & Independence
- Identity versus Role Confusion
- Intimacy versus Isolation

Important Developmental Skills

- Relationship with Parents/Siblings
- Identity and Sense of Self
- Self-Efficacy for Regimen Management
- Decision Making/Problem Solving
- Social Support

START EARLY!

Adolescent Complications

Family Centered Care

Reduce Stress!

Bridges

Multidisciplinary

Individualized

Remember

Transition PREPARATION

Develop Policies

Individualized Plan

Adherence Monitoring

Collaboration – family/medical providers

WHEN YOU SEE AMAZING, IT CHANGES YOU.